Resolution of Approval of Gov. Hughes and eeches in His Favor—Governor Father Unable to Be Present-Meetings Each Evening and on Sunday Afternoon

The twenty-eighth annual gospel tent Evangel started off yesterday with the adoption of a resolution instructing the Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, who presided, to write Gov. Hughes an expression of appreciation of his "heroism and loyalty to law and order" as shown in his work for the passage of the anti-gambling bill. The motion was put by Dr. MacArthur after he had informed the thousand or more persons present that his own church, the Calvary Baptist, had instructed him to the same

Judging by the frequent applause, the Rev. Wilton Merle Smith of the Central Presbyterian Church expressed the sentiment of the attendants in his commentary on the fight which has been waged for the passage of the bill.

'Charles the Evangelist,' the politician call him," the Rev. Dr. Smith said, "and 'Charles the Knight, armed and victorious,' we call him. His splendid moral victory i of deeper significance to the Church of Christ than anything else which has happened during the last twenty years."

Mr. Smith referred obviously to Foelker as "a man who does his duty at the risk of his life. Verily," he added, "we have got the devil on the run; it was a splendid moral victory. The politicians sneer at the moral issue. The politicians sneered at 'Charles the Evangelist' as a namby pamby, but when they felt the spear at their sides they changed their minds. It was a fight won wholly on its merits. The newspapers with but very few exceptions were subsidized—their racing editions made too much money. But when the dear old Governor carried the issue to the people, why conscience won."

Dr. MacArthur told the assemblage that "God was not dead. Membership in the Church of Christ," he added, "was growing faster than the ratio of population in this country." He supported his contention by figures.

country." He supported his contention by figures.

Other speakers were the Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Hartsock of Union Methodist Episcopai Church, the Rev. Dr. R. R. White of Faith Presbyterian Church and Evangelist William Phillips Hall. In the evening there was a union rally at the Broadway Tabernacle at which the Rev. C. W. McPherson and Evangelist Hall spoke. This year the movement will last from June 14 to September 20. The meetings are held in a big tent seating 1,650 at Broadway and Fifty-seventh street. There will be a meeting every weekday and an additional meeting on Sunday at 4. At yesterday's 4 o'clock meeting the Rev. D. C. Hughes, father of Gov. Hughes, was scheduled to speak. Mr. Hughes was, however, unexpectedly called to Albany and so did not address the congregation.

Mr. Hughes was, however, unexpectedly called to Albany and so did not address the congregation.

The purposes of the gospel tent Evangel include, besides Gospel preaching, a general championship of civic righteousness and particularly of the temperance cause. On the corner of the lot where the tent stands there is a saloon. One of the big features of the Evangel will be a temperance convention to be held from August 31 to September 5, the proceedings of which the frequenters of the saloon can hear as plainly as if they were in the tent, as they are not more than twenty feet away from it. Other events of especial interest are the missionary convention from July 12 to July 13 and the Bible convention from August 23 to 30. The latter will be under the leadership of the Rev. Dr. James M. Gray, president of the Moody Bible Training School of Chicago.

Some of the evangelists expected are the Rev. Dr. R. A. Torrey, the Rev. Lon G. Broughton, who helped make Georgia a temperance State, and the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, who with his singer, Charles M. Alexander, has taken the place in the world of evangelicism once held by Sankey and Moody. In proof of the non-sectarian nature of the movement the Rev. Mr. Mc-Pherson, superintendent of the gospel tent Evangel. told his hearers vesterday nature of the movement the Rev. Mr. Mc-Pherson, superintendent of the gospel tent Evangel, told his hearers yesterday of some very substantial help that had been received from a couple of Roman Catholics, John J. Finn, an electrician, and Edward Murphy, a sign painter.

MOTORMAN HELD WITHOUT BAIL His Desertion of His Car in East Orange

Was Followed by a Woman's Death. ORANGE, N. J., June 14.-County Physician Daniel Elliott performed an autopsy in Kunz's morgue, Orange, to-day on the body of Anna Collins, who was killed last night by jumping from a trolley car which had been deserted by the motorman and conductor when a fuse blew out. The doc tor found that she had sustained a compound fracture of the skull. Her body was claimed by her sister, Margaret Collins, a domestic in East Orange.

Although at least twenty persons jumped from the car in its unhampered run of four blocks, only four have been found who were badly hurt. Robert Cato of 220 Park avenue, East Orange, sustained a broken rib. Sadie Scanlon of 28 Henry street, Orange, had a bad scalp wound. Clarence B. Meeker of 240 Elmwood avenue, East Orange, had his right arm broken. Mrs. Henry J. Raphel of 486 Centre street, Orange, was badly bruised and is suffering from shock so that she is in bed.

Patrick Derrig, the motorman of the car, who jumped when the flash of flame appeared from the fuse box, is still held in the East Orange police station. A charge of manslaughter was preferred against him by Chief of Police James Bell. He will be taken to Newark to-morrow, when County Prosecutor Wilbur A. Mott will decide whether he is to be released on bail of not. He has refused to make any statement about the case.

Frank Nulty, the conductor of the car, who was also arrested, was released at midnight. He was held as a material witness, but $500 bail was finally accepted. Charles E. S. Thorn of the Public Service Corporation's legal staff going on his bond. from the car in its unhampered run of four

FIANCES MAY BE INTERESTED. Court Holds They Can't Get Damages for

Injuries to Wives Before Marriage. PATERSON, N. J., June 14.—The Supreme Court of this State has handed down a decision which may be of interest to young men engaged in courting. It holds that a man who marries a girl cannot set up any claim to damages for injuries sus-tained by the bride before her marriage.

William G. Meade and his wife were the William G. Meade and his wife were the plaintiffs. They were at a picnic in Baum's Park a few months before their marriage and the young woman was injured by the falling of a balcony in front of the dancing pavilion. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Meade brought suit against Henry Baum, proprietor of the picnic ground. A jury in the Circuit Court awarded Mrs. Meade 31,500 for injuries to her foot and her husband was awarded $500 for the loss of his wife's services. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court. The judgment in favor of Mrs. Meade is permitted to stand, but the court decides that the husband is not entitled to damages. The court in its opinion says:

"It s impossible to a service of the picnic in the picni husband is not entitled to damages. The court in its opinion says:

"It s impossible to conceive of any legal principle upon which the action of the husband can be supported. It is true that it is pleaded and proved that at the date of the accident there was a mutual agreement between the plaintiffs to intermarry, but although the female plaintiff was under contract to marry the male plaintiff, no action by him will lie against the defendant for either preventing the execution of that purpose or for causing the promise to be of less value and more burdensome to him."

BERTILLON FOR BANKS.

PITTSBURG, June 14.—Pittsburg bankers who during the past three years have been robbed of almost $7,500,000 by dishonest employees have decided on a Bertillon sysem by which they hope to keep tab on all their employees. They have consulted Joseph Linden, the Bertillon operator of the Pittsburg Detective Bureau, and he is the Pittsburg Detective Bureau, and he is furnishing them the necessary information.

Each bank will insist on its employees having their photographs made and their measurements taken, and these pictures and measurements it is proposed to keep in one central place. In addition to the photographs and measurements each employee will be expected to give his business pedigree and where he has been employed during all the time that he has been in business.

Employees of the banks are extremely indignant over the action of the bankers, but the bankers declare that if their employees are honest there is no reason why they should object to having their pictures takes.
